Tiny transportation

This attraction is based on the creation of a miniature traffic environment in which children gain knowledge of traffic safety as well as improve their driving skills.

The educators provide kids with information about basic traffic safety, and once at the track, the children practice what they learned. After successful completion of the training, the participants may eventually obtain their driver's license! Edutainment exemplified!

Our Children Driving Schools can range from minimalistic tracks with essential equipment to custom-designed concepts inspired by a particular theme. Yellow Banana provides its clients with all the necessary supplies, from one single car to the whole fleet of vehicles, traffic signs, and traffic light systems. Our 12 and 24-volt battery cars and trucks are available in many appealing designs to choose from.

To achieve greater authenticity, some of our clients go one step further, and add a car washing tunnel or a charging station, so that kids feel like real drivers. Pretty cool, don't you think? And, since imagination knows no bounds, what about a fire station or an entire city?

The driving school is a timeless attraction that can be installed at large or small amusement parks as well as at other kinds of facilities.
